Dear Sir/Ma'am:

Greetings!

The Philippine Nurses Research Society, Inc. (PNRSI) will conduct its 11th National Nursing Research Conference with the theme "Translational Research: Improving Quality of Health Sciences, Informing Policy" on February 28 to March 1, 2018 at Supreme Hotel, 113 Magsaysay Avenue, Baguio City and a pre-conference on February 27, 2018 at the same venue. Every year, the National Nursing Research Conference becomes a venue for researchers, clinicians, educators and students to share their research findings with the aim of improving health care outcomes.

Distinguished international and national nurse researchers are invited to address and share their perspectives in this two-day conference and one-day pre-conference. Moreover, we have invited graduate and undergraduate presenters to share their research studies and we are expecting around three hundred or more delegates for this conference. Plenary sessions will focus on the many significant issues in translating research findings into practice in the nursing profession. We encourage concrete ways of distributing/communicating research findings and possible ways to translate into practice such as identifying the implications of the issue and findings for practice, policy, management and leadership, education, or government. A page is attached indicating the list of Keynote Speakers, Plenary Speakers and Resource Persons/Facilitators for the Pre-conference seminar-workshops for your perusal.

In this regard, we may invite you and your faculty to attend the conference. The conference was applied for CPD approval. Please see details of the conference fee for the main conference and pre-conference, the conference program, and registration form to this link www.pnrsi.com

Participants are also invited to submit their research abstracts for oral and/or poster presentation on or before December 30, 2018 to 11nrc2019@gmail.com. Please see guidelines to the link www.pnrsi.com.
